Investment Management Agreement

Discretionary management terms of business
Investment Management Agreement

Discretionary Management Terms

Important Information

Our agreement with you

These discretionary management terms set out how we will provide our services to our clients and apply as follows:

When you invest in a general investment account (either through a financial adviser or directly) you will be our client.

When you invest in a product through a product provider, the product provider will be the legal and beneficial owner of the assets within the product. Consequently, the product provider will be our client and you will be a client of the product provider, not us. We will manage any assets held within a product subject to your product provider’s terms and conditions and any investment restrictions that we have agreed with the product provider.

The product provider has authorised us to communicate with you on certain matters relating to the product assets, and these discretionary management terms explain how we will conduct our relationship with you.

Where we refer to “you” in these discretionary management terms, we are referring to our client (including any client which is a company, trust or other form of legal entity) or the underlying client of a product provider unless we tell you otherwise. If you invest both directly and through a product provider, we will treat you as our client only in relation to general investment accounts.

Even if you are the client of the product provider and not our direct client, these discretionary management terms will still apply to our relationship with (and give certain rights and obligations to) you if you invest in a product. We will specify how these discretionary management terms apply to you in these circumstances. We will also put in place a separate agreement governing our relationship with the product provider.

These discretionary management terms form part of the investment management agreement, which is made up of:

1. these discretionary management terms; and
2. your application form (which includes your tariff of charges, and your investment objectives and restrictions schedule).

If you invest through an Individual Savings Account (ISA) the agreement must be read with the specific ISA terms which form part of the agreement between you and Standard Life Savings Limited (the ISA manager), which we will give you before Standard Life Savings Limited provides ISA services.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING THE PERFORMANCE OF YOUR PORTFOLIO:

We will manage your portfolio on a discretionary basis, as agreed with you and as set out in the agreement. We do not warrant the performance or profitability of the portfolio or any part of it or that any investment objectives will be successfully achieved. If you have any queries regarding the performance of your portfolio, please speak to your client portfolio manager.

Bold terms in the document are words which have a particular meaning (defined words) when we use them in these discretionary management terms and in the documentation you receive from us regarding your account. The meaning of these terms can be found in the Definitions section which begins at page 2.

How we charge for our services

The fees and charges that you will have to pay when you instruct us to manage your portfolio are set out in the tariff of charges which is set out in the application form that you sign when you open your portfolio. We may vary these fees and charges from time to time and if we do so, we will give you not less than thirty business days’ notice as set out in section 8 (Fees and charges (and how we may vary these)). If you ask us to provide a service that will incur an unexpected fee that we have not listed in our tariff of charges, we will give you at least fourteen days’ notice before we charge the fee. We will provide you with a further copy of your tariff of charges on request.

Our legal agreement with you

The agreement governs the relationship that we, Aberdeen Standard Capital Limited, a company authorised and regulated by the FCA (part of the Standard Life Aberdeen group) has with you. It forms the basis of our contractual relationship with you.

When you sign and return the application form to us, you are accepting the agreement. Please take time to read the agreement carefully as it will form a legally binding agreement between you and us once your application has been received and accepted by us.

Once we have accepted your application we will also be bound by the agreement. We may refuse to accept any application at our discretion.

You agree to comply with the agreement at all times as applicable to you when you invest in a general investment account or a product.

We means Aberdeen Standard Capital Limited, a company incorporated in Scotland and having its registered office at 1 George Street, Edinburgh EH2 2LL (and references to us, our and ourselves have the same meaning). We are authorised and regulated by the FCA and are entered on the Financial Services Register (number 466684). Our main business is to provide discretionary investment management services. References to we, us and our include our successors and assigns; and you means the natural or legal person(s) to whom we are providing the services in relation to a general investment account as our client, or with whom we are engaging as a client of a product provider (as applicable) (and references to your and yourselves have the same meaning). Where our client is the product provider “you” will also mean the product provider, as applicable;
(b) if there is any inconsistency between any provisions in any other documentation and any provisions of the agreement, the terms of the agreement will prevail unless we have agreed with you otherwise (for example by way of a side letter or supplementary agreement). In these circumstances the alternative terms that we have agreed will take precedence and apply. If you invest in a product you agree that we will be managing these assets subject to the terms and conditions of the product provider.
(c) if there is any inconsistency between any appendix to the agreement and the discretionary management terms, the latter will prevail.
(d) Section headings are purely for ease of reference and do not form part of or affect the interpretation of the agreement.
2. How we treat your personal information

(a) When you open an account with us (whether you invest directly or through a product), you give us personal information, such as your name, age and address, corporate or trust contact details, certain financial information and, where applicable, details relating to persons who may be your dependants, beneficiaries, employees and advisers. We will use this information and the information that we hold about your assets and non-managed assets and the way you operate your account in order to provide the services to you and manage our business. If you choose to provide us with sensitive information relating to, for example, medical conditions, religious beliefs or political opinions (which is classified as “sensitive data”) we may use it to allow us to perform the services. We will require the individual’s explicit consent for this, and you should not provide us sensitive data unless (i) the information relates solely to you and you have provided explicit consent; or (ii) the data relates to another individual and you have obtained their explicit consent.

(b) Except as provided for under section 2(d) below, we will keep any personal information that we hold confidential.

(c) If you choose to provide us with sensitive information relating to, for example, medical conditions, religious beliefs or political opinions (which is classified as “sensitive data”) we may use it to allow us to perform the services. We will require the individual’s explicit consent for this, and you should not provide us sensitive data unless (i) the information relates solely to you and you have provided explicit consent; or (ii) the data relates to another individual and you have obtained their explicit consent.

(d) You agree that we may disclose your personal information (including any sensitive data) to: your professional advisers, other members of the Standard Life Aberdeen group or, if necessary, to our or their sub-contractors or third party service providers (including Platform Securities) for the purposes of this section. We may also share your information with our regulators and HM Revenue & Customs, where necessary and lawful to do so.

(e) Under the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive we are required to record certain telephone conversations or electronic communications (including mails, faxes, emails or documentation of client orders made at meetings) when we receive and transmit orders; execute orders on behalf of clients; and deal on our own account. We may deliver copies or transcripts of such recordings to any court or competent regulatory authority and a copy of these communications must be made available on request for a period of five years (or seven years if requested by the competent regulatory authority) from when the communication was recorded.

(f) The majority of your information is processed in the UK and European Economic Area (EEA). However, some of your information may be processed by us or the third parties we work with outside of the EEA, including countries such as the United States. Where your information is being processed outside of the EEA, we take additional steps to ensure that your information is protected to at least an equivalent level as would be applied by UK/EEA data privacy laws e.g. we will put in place legal agreements with our third party suppliers and do regular checks to ensure they meet these obligations.

(g) For more information on how we treat personal information and what your rights are, please read our Privacy Policy at https://www.aberdeenstandardcapital.com/asc-privacy-policy.html or write to the Data Protection Officer c/o Aberdeen Standard Capital, c/o Standard Life Aberdeen PLC, 1 George Street, Edinburgh. EH2 2LL. If you do not have access to the internet and would like more information on how we handle your data, please contact your Client Portfolio Manager.

3. Regulation

(a) We are authorised and regulated by the FCA in the conduct of our business (Financial Services Register Number 466684).

(b) The FCA is an independent body that regulates the financial services industry in the UK. The FCA’s address is 25 The North Colonnade, Canary Wharf, London E14 5HS and its website is found at www.the-FCA.org.uk.

(c) We will notify you immediately if we cease to be so regulated. Nothing in the agreement shall exclude any liability of ours to you arising under the FSMA, or the FCA Rules.

4. Client categorisation

(a) Where you invest with us directly, we will categorise you and treat you as a retail client. Subject to section 4(c), you will benefit from those regulatory protections afforded to that category of client under the FCA Rules.

(b) If you invest in a product through a product provider, the product provider will be our client. Please note:

(i) we understand that the product provider has appointed us to act as discretionary investment manager (on your recommendation) to manage the investments within your product;
5. Anti-money laundering and tax obligations

(a) To comply with anti-money laundering and tax regulations, we must verify the identity of our clients, of anyone who has control over our clients and of anyone who invests in a product or who has a beneficial interest in the portfolios that we will manage when an account is opened. This will include the directors and owners of any companies, and the trustees and beneficiaries of any trusts, which are our clients.

(b) We use a range of checks (for example, online checks with external bodies, such as credit reference agencies), for obtaining documents from you confirming your name and home address, or evidence of your status as a company, trust or other form of legal entity (as applicable). We may from time to time change our processes or use other methods on a case-by-case basis to improve our system, to prevent financial crime, or where standard information is not available. Where an online check is carried out, the agency will verify your identity, or the identity of any related persons as described in 5(a) above, against public records and it will also check whether you, or any related persons as described in 5(a) above, have a credit history (but it will not disclose any information about the subject’s actual borrowings). The agency will add a note to show that an identity check was made to the subject’s credit file, but this information will not be available to any third parties.

(c) We maintain policies and procedures which we follow in order to verify our clients based on client type and geographical location. These policies and procedures are compliant with UK and other anti-money laundering regulations. If we are unable to verify your identity as required under these policies and procedures, we may terminate the agreement in accordance with section 24(b)(ii) or (iii) (as appropriate).

(d) We will also verify the identity of all authorised persons including any attorneys appointed under a power of attorney before we accept instructions to communicate with them.

(e) We may also make enquiries when we receive an application or at any time whilst we manage a portfolio in order to satisfy ourselves as to the source of any money invested.

(f) We may need to ask for information from time to time in order to re-verify your identity, or the identity of any related persons (as required), in the event of a change in your circumstances or a change in applicable law or regulation.

(g) In relation to your regulatory obligations, we may, in appropriate cases, make returns and reports about your circumstances to various relevant authorities and may need to make certain enquiries and obtain certain information from you for that purpose. You confirm that all information you supply will be accurate and that we may pass on such information as we consider necessary to comply with any legal or regulatory obligations to which we are subject.

(h) We have certain responsibilities under various anti-money laundering legislation and rules, know your customer requirements and tax regulations, inter-governmental agreements and treaties in and outside the UK to verify the identity of customers and in appropriate cases to make returns and reports about your circumstances to various relevant authorities and may need to make certain enquiries and obtain certain information from you for that purpose. You confirm that all information you supply will be accurate and that we may pass on such information, as we consider necessary to comply with any legal or regulatory obligations to which we are subject.

6. Effective date

(a) The agreement will come into force on the date we receive a copy of the application form signed by you or on such other date as may be agreed between us and you and shall continue until terminated by either party in accordance with the provisions of section 24.

(b) By signing the agreement you appoint us as discretionary investment manager of the assets and delegate to us all of your powers and discretions in relation to the management of your assets subject to the terms and conditions of the agreement.

7. Joint accounts

(a) Only individuals may hold accounts in joint names. Companies and trusts will be treated as sole account holders.
(b) A portfolio may be held in joint names of two or more people and we will be entitled to accept instructions from any one person. In certain circumstances we will require instructions to be given in writing by all joint account holders (for example, instructions to change account or address details; or where we reasonably believe the instruction may prejudice the interests of non-instructing joint account holders).

(c) Unless we are instructed otherwise and while any joint account holders survive, we will treat each surviving joint account holder as having the right to all of the assets in the portfolio.

(d) When you open a joint account with us, you confirm that all assets and non-managed assets comprising the portfolio from time to time belong to all joint account holders and to the survivor(s) of them. The portfolio will be held for and in the name of all joint account holders and the survivor(s) of them. Accordingly, and subject to any written notice, as provided in section 27(h) (Death – joint account holders), on the death of any joint account holder, we may on the instructions of the survivor(s) pay or transfer the portfolio to the survivor(s) whose receipt therefore shall be a full and sufficient discharge to us in respect of such assets and non-managed assets, and we will not be obliged to make any further enquiry into such distribution.

(e) If a dispute between joint account holders arises, we will continue to manage your assets but will not accept any new instructions and will not make any payments out of your portfolio (except regular payments such as standing orders which have already been set up prior to the dispute arising), until we receive further clear written instructions from all joint account-holders.

(f) If you or one of the other joint account holders no longer wishes to continue with the operation of a joint account, we will close the joint account and transfer the portfolio into a new account in the name of the remaining account holder(s), unless otherwise jointly instructed.

(g) Each joint account holder is liable both jointly with their surviving joint account holders, and individually, to meet all of your obligations under the agreement and we may ask all or any one of you to pay in full any amount you owe us, not just a proportion.

8. Fees and charges (and how we may vary these)

(a) Our fees and charges are detailed in the tariff of charges which is set out in the application form that you sign. We will provide you with a further copy of your tariff of charges on request.

(b) We may review and/or change fees in the future. We will notify you in writing of any new fees or charges to be applied or any changes to existing fees or charges not less than thirty business days before such a change takes place.

(c) If, on or before 30 December 2012, you authorised us in writing to pay your adviser a fee (for advice received on or before 30 December 2012), we will continue to deduct this fee from your portfolio until you or your adviser instructs us to stop paying that fee or if we are required by applicable regulations to stop paying that fee. If a fee is already being paid as a percentage of your investments’ value, that percentage cannot be increased. If a fee is already being paid as a set monetary amount, that amount cannot be increased. We will stop paying such fees if you ask us to pay an ongoing adviser charge as explained in the adviser charges section of the tariff of charges, or if this is necessary to comply with the requirements of the FCA or the FCA Rules. Any fees or charges will be paid out of assets and if applicable, non-managed assets held on your behalf by Platform Securities.

(d) You will reimburse us for any applicable taxes or stock exchange duties (such as, for example, VAT, stamp duties and PTM levies) in respect of the assets and non-managed assets, and we will be entitled to take this from your portfolio.

(e) We may also agree with you from time to time that you shall be responsible for payment of the following:

(i) any other tax liabilities or government charges;

(ii) brokerage and dealing costs, administration fees, commission, transfer fees, registration fees; and

(iii) any other costs and expenses that we, Platform Securities, our agents or any nominee or any Standard Life Aberdeen group company properly incurs in the discharge of our obligations under the agreement or the administration of your portfolio.

(f) We will calculate the fees that you must pay quarterly in arrears based on the actual value of the assets in your portfolio as at 31 March, 30 June, 30 September and 31 December each year (the “quarterly calculation”).

(g) Fees for the first quarter will be calculated proportionately from the date on which we receive assets from you.

(h) Fees and other charges which are payable by you under the agreement will be deducted from your assets and any non-managed assets held by Platform Securities following the quarterly calculation. If you do not have enough money in your portfolio, we will instruct Platform Securities to sell any securities held by it on your behalf to meet these fees and charges.
9. Adviser charges

(a) If you invest in a portfolio through an adviser you can pay for the services of your adviser in two ways. Firstly, you can agree to pay a fee directly to your adviser or secondly, you can ask us to facilitate payment of adviser charges as set out in this section and the adviser charges section of the tariff of charges.

(b) If you invest in a product we can only facilitate payment of adviser charges through the product where this is permitted by the product terms and conditions and applicable regulations.

(c) An adviser charge must be agreed between you and your adviser. We are not responsible for setting the amount of the adviser charge and this is a private matter between you and your adviser. We do not get involved in any dispute between you and your adviser. So if there is a dispute as to what you have actually agreed to pay your adviser, you and your adviser must resolve that dispute between yourselves.

(d) You agree that we may deduct an adviser charge from your portfolio in accordance with instructions we receive from you. Where your adviser forwards your instructions to us, we will always write to you directly to confirm that we have taken this instruction.

(e) As soon as we move money from your portfolio in accordance with your instruction to pay charges to your adviser, this is no longer your money and becomes due and payable by us to your adviser.

(f) We do not have to agree to facilitate the payment of adviser charges and we may refuse to do so, for any reason.

(g) If we agree to facilitate the payment of adviser charges, we will send you a confirmation letter showing the adviser charges your adviser has instructed us to deduct from your portfolio. It is very important that you notify us if your address has changed before you ask us to pay an adviser charge.

(h) It is also important that you check that your confirmation letter is correct and if not, that you inform us immediately.

(i) If the adviser charges shown in the confirmation letter are not what you have agreed with your adviser you should contact your adviser as soon as possible. You should note that the confirmation letter may not show all remuneration you are paying your adviser (for example, any fees you previously agreed with your adviser). In addition, if you have agreed to pay your adviser multiple adviser charges, you may receive more than one confirmation letter (for example, if the adviser charges are payable on different dates as money becomes available).

(j) You should contact your adviser if you have any questions about how you are paying for their services.

(k) If the adviser charges shown in the confirmation letter are not what you have agreed with your adviser and you would like us to help you, you must contact us (see section 10(j) (How to contact us)) within thirty calendar days of the date of the confirmation letter.

(l) If you ask us not to pay an adviser charge, we will notify your adviser of your instruction. You may still be liable to pay an adviser charge to your adviser if we have stopped paying an adviser charge in accordance with your instructions.

(m) It is the sole responsibility of your adviser to account for any VAT due (in line with current HMRC requirements) in relation to any adviser charges.

10. Communications

(a) General

(i) We will communicate with you in a number of ways, either by telephone, video call (which are treated in the same way as face-to-face meetings or telephone calls), post, email, fax or (where appropriate) by another form of secure messaging, as we agree with you in the circumstances. In some circumstances, you must give us your before we can process your instructions.

(ii) If we accept your verbal instructions in a meeting, telephone or video call we will confirm these to you in writing (including via fax, email or secure message) either before or after acting upon the instruction, depending on the scenario.

(iii) If you instruct us by email, post, fax or secure message, we may contact you by telephone in order to verify that your instructions are genuine and/or to ask for further information.
(iv) The security of your portfolio is very important to us. Therefore, when you communicate with us, or when we contact you to confirm your instructions or discuss your account, we may ask you certain security questions to confirm your identity before we discuss your instructions or your account with you.

(v) You must tell us without delay of any change in your contact details. If you do not do so we will not be liable to you for any losses you suffer because you have not received our communications.

(b) Instructions – investment in a general investment account

(i) You have agreed that we will manage your account on a discretionary basis. Consequently we will not accept investment instructions from you except as set out in section 12(k) - (m), but may accept general instructions to vary the way in which we operate your general investment account or any information that you have given us or to pay in or remove specified amounts of money or other assets or non-managed assets from your account.

(ii) Unless we receive clear instructions from you, we will not accept any liability for losses arising from mistakes or misunderstandings of your instructions. We may rely and act on any instruction or communication which purports to have been given (and which is reasonably accepted by us as having been given) by you without further enquiry.

(iii) Where instructions from you are ambiguous or unclear or where we otherwise consider it necessary, we will try to contact you to clarify or verify those instructions.

(iv) We will refuse your instructions if we believe that your instructions are unclear, may not be possible to carry out (for example where an instruction to withdraw money is received after the custodian’s payment cut off time or a liquidation request is received when markets are closed), or might involve any party in a breach of any law, rule or regulation. We will not be liable to you for any delay or for any losses you incur in these circumstances.

(v) If we refuse an instruction we will notify you of the reasons for doing so.

(c) Instructions – investment in a product

(i) We will accept instructions with regard to your product assets from the product provider which administers or manages your product. We have agreed with the product provider how we will communicate with them.

(ii) If we receive an instruction regarding your product assets from you, we shall seek authorisation from the product provider before acting on it. If we refuse an instruction from you, we will notify you of the reasons for doing so.

(iii) We will accept instructions with regard to your investment objectives and restrictions from you. If there is any discrepancy between your instructions on the restrictions and the product provider’s instructions and terms and conditions on the restrictions, the product provider’s instructions and terms and conditions will take precedence.

(d) Withdrawing from your portfolio

(i) If you wish to withdraw or transfer assets or non-managed assets from your portfolio we will only do so where:

(A) it is possible to transfer or sell your portfolio investments in accordance with your or your product provider’s instructions; and

(B) all outstanding liabilities on your account have been settled and the custodian has received the cleared proceeds of any pending sale of your investments.

(ii) Where you have invested in a general investment account, we will only pay withdrawals directly to you. In certain circumstances we may, at our sole discretion, agree to pay out to a third party at your request.

(iii) Where your assets are invested in a product, we will only pay withdrawals directly to your product provider. In certain circumstances, we may agree to pay out to a third party if instructed to do so by your product provider.

(iv) Further information on withdrawals from your portfolio is set out in section 12(k) - (m).

(e) Third parties who can operate your portfolio

(i) Authorised persons

You and, where applicable, your product provider, may instruct us from time to time to accept instructions from authorised persons. We require prior written authorisation, confirming the name and address of the person you are authorising to provide instructions. We will act upon any instruction given to us on your behalf by the authorised person in accordance with your prior written authorisation until you tell us that the person is no longer authorised to act on your behalf. We will not be liable for loss, claims, damages or expenses that might arise as a result of us acting in accordance with the authorised person’s instructions.
(ii) Power of attorney

You may ask us to accept a power of attorney whether you invest directly or through a product. On accounts where a power of attorney is required by you, we will ask you to provide a certified copy of the power of attorney document. Once we have received and accepted this, we will only be able to accept written instructions from the attorneys if such instructions are signed by all of the attorneys. The type of instructions that we are able to accept under a power of attorney will depend on the type of power of attorney that you have granted, and we will act accordingly.

(f) Language

Unless stated or agreed otherwise, any documents we provide to you will be in English. Where we have to communicate to you we shall do so in English and you will also communicate with us in English.

(g) Meetings

We will arrange to meet with you at such intervals as we agree with you to discuss matters relating to the management of your assets.

(h) Valuations, confirmations and reports

(i) We may include the valuation of your non-managed assets in any valuations we provide to you to enable you to see your portfolio in total. The non-managed assets may be held by Platform Securities under the custodian agreement in which case they will be shown on your periodic statements.

(ii) We will send you a periodic statement every three months or at such other intervals as required by the FCA Rules. In some circumstances we may be required to notify you where the value of your portfolio and/or your portfolio’s holdings in certain funds falls by 10% or more (which we will do on the same business day as the fall occurs).

(iii) We shall not send contract notes to you on a transaction by transaction basis unless we agree with you otherwise.

(iv) Where we have agreed a predetermined threshold with you we will report any losses exceeding that threshold to you in accordance with the FCA Rules.

(i) Notices

(i) The notices that either we or you are required to serve on each other under the agreement must be in writing and can be served, at the discretion of the person serving the notice, either (i) by first or second class post (as appropriate) to the last notified address of the recipient or (ii) by email to the last notified address of the recipient.

(ii) If a notice is served by first or second class post, you and we agree that it will be considered to be delivered two business days after being posted by first class, or three business days after being posted by second class, and proof that the envelope was properly addressed, stamped and posted will be sufficient proof of service.

(iii) If a notice is served by email or where appropriate, secure message, you and we agree that it will be considered to be delivered on the day it was sent provided no non-delivery message is received by the sender.

(iv) Please note that there is no guarantee that any email or electronic message sent will be received, or that the contents of any such message will remain private or unaltered during transmission. We will have no liability to you arising from breach of confidentiality or otherwise if any person sees any communication which is deemed to have been/ has been delivered to your email address. If we act upon instructions given to us by email or any other electronic means we shall not accept any liability for any loss you incur if it appears that the communication was sent by you. Where you email us, we may reply by email or by telephone unless you instruct otherwise. We shall not be liable for any loss you incur as a result of your failure to receive for whatever reason any communication sent by email by us to the last email address that you have provided us with.

(v) While we virus scan all emails we will not be responsible for any damage caused by a virus or alteration by a third party after it is sent. We recommend that you employ reasonable virus detection and protection measures when accessing emails from us.

(vi) We may monitor the use and content of emails which are sent from and received by us for the purposes of ensuring compliance with our own email policy and identifying and taking action against unlawful or improper use of our systems, including but not limited to, spoofing, the transmission of computer viruses and a denial of service attack.

(j) How to contact us

(i) If you have any questions or would like to make any changes to your portfolio, you should initially speak to your client portfolio manager. You can also contact our Head Office. Our telephone number is 0345 279 8880. Please have your portfolio details ready when calling.
(ii) Calls may be monitored and/or recorded to protect both you and us and to help with our training. Call charges will vary.

(iii) Our main contact address is Aberdeen Standard Capital, 1 George Street, Edinburgh, EH2 2LL. Email is not a secure method of transferring personal information, but if you are happy to send your details this way, please email your client portfolio manager at the email address which they have provided to you. We may also agree to use another form of secure messaging, where appropriate. Our website can be found at www.aberdeenstandardcapital.com. There is no guarantee that any email sent will be received or will not have been tampered with or intercepted during transmission. You may prefer to contact us by telephone or in writing.

11. Your responsibilities

The responsibilities that we set out in this section apply to you whether you invest in a general investment account or in a product, and also to your product provider, as set out below.

(a) If you invest in a general investment account, you must ensure (and if you invest in a product, your product provider must ensure in relation to product assets) that before appointing us, your portfolio is free from all security rights and charges, and that no security rights or charges will arise from your (or your product provider’s) acts or omissions in respect of your portfolio.

(b) You agree that all assets and non-managed assets in your general investment account will at all times remain beneficially owned by you. The ownership of assets in a product will be determined by the terms and conditions of the product.

(c) You agree not to deal, except through us, with any of the assets in your general investment account, or with any of your non-managed assets, without our prior written agreement.

(d) You must ensure that any information you have provided to us in relation to your status, residence and domicile for taxation purposes is complete and correct, and you agree to provide any further information properly required by any court or regulatory authority that has the power to ask you to do so. You acknowledge that where a Legal Entity Identifier (LEI) or National Identifier (NI) are required but are not made available to us, we will be unable to make certain trades in relation to your portfolio.

(e) You must notify us promptly if there is any material change in any information you have provided to us, and must provide such other relevant information as we may from time to time reasonably request in order to fulfil our regulatory and contractual obligations. If you do not provide any information that we ask for, it may adversely affect the quality of the services that we provide.

(f) You agree to ratify any action that we lawfully take in the proper performance of our duties under the agreement.

(g) Unless arising from our negligence, wilful default or fraud or that of our employees or our delegates under section 14, or their employees, you promise to reimburse us against all costs, losses, claims and expenses that we reasonably incur:

(i) as a result of any party claiming to be entitled to assets or non-managed assets which form part of the portfolio at, or any time after, the time when we first assume management of the assets or arrange custody for your non-managed assets; and/or

(ii) because you have breached the agreement; and/or

(iii) arising out of any action that we properly take in accordance with the agreement; and/or

(iv) because you fail to fully perform your obligations and/or meet your liabilities however arising to Platform Securities and/or its sub-custodians under the custodian agreement.

(h) Companies and Trustees

Where you are a company or are acting as a trustee:

(i) You must ensure that none of the obligations contained in the agreement violate your constitutional documents, the trust deed or any law, rule, regulation, order or judgement binding on or affecting you. You agree that we have no responsibility for any breach of such requirements whenever occurring, including, without limitation, any fault in the investment of the assets before the effective date.

(ii) You must inform us promptly of any change to your constitution or trust deed which affects in any way your or our powers, obligations and/or duties under the agreement or investment principles.

(iii) When you inform us of a change to your statement of investment principles, your intimation of the change will be deemed to be a request by you to amend the agreement and shall be treated accordingly.

(iv) Where you are the trustee of a pension scheme:

(A) in discharging our obligations under the agreement we will have regard to the requirements specified in the Pension Fund Disclosure Code; and
12. Investment discretion

(a) We will manage your assets in accordance with the investment objectives, any restrictions and, where applicable, as agreed with the product provider. In doing so we will have complete discretion to buy, sell, retain, exchange, or otherwise deal in investments and other assets, make deposits, subscribe to issues and offers for sale and execute transactions in regulated and unregulated collective investment schemes (including in each case, for the avoidance of doubt, in-house funds), effect transactions on any markets (including unregulated markets and multilateral trading facilities), negotiate and execute counterparty and account opening documentation, take all routine or day to day decisions and otherwise act as we judge appropriate in relation to the management of your assets.

(b) We shall not refer to you before making any investment decisions unless we agree otherwise with you in advance. We shall carry out our duties under the agreement in accordance with our obligations under the FCA Rules regarding suitability and best execution.

(c) Before we can manage your assets, we must understand your attitude to risk and the suitability for you of the investments that we may make for you. The way that we will do this depends on the way in which you invest with us.

(i) If you have an appointed adviser, they will usually take responsibility for investment suitability. If they do so, they will assess your attitude to risk and investment suitability before investing with us, and we are entitled to rely on their assessment without further enquiry;

(ii) Where your adviser does not accept responsibility for assessing investment suitability, or where you do not have an appointed adviser, we will take on this responsibility.

(iii) Where we take responsibility for assessing investment suitability, that assessment will be performed in accordance with the information you have provided regarding your investment objectives. This includes, but may not be limited to, your knowledge and experience in relation to investments, your preference regarding risk taking, your risk profile, the purpose of your investment and your financial situation.

(d) We manage your assets on a discretionary basis (described in section 12(a)) in accordance with your attitude to risk. Our discretion and the services we provide relate only to the assets which you have decided you want us to manage. We do not provide a full financial planning service and will not carry out suitability checks with regard to your wider financial circumstances. We do not provide tax planning or tax specific advice.

(e) You should carefully read appendix 2 to these discretionary management terms which sets out a general description of the nature of, and risks relating to, the investments that we may buy, sell, retain, exchange or otherwise deal in on your behalf when managing your assets.

(f) The investment objectives and restrictions will not be considered to be breached as a result of any events or circumstances outside our reasonable control including, but not limited to, changes in the price or value of assets in your portfolio brought about solely through movements in the market. We will keep such investment objectives and restrictions under review and may from time to time suggest such amendments as in our opinion might be made to them.

(g) Unless otherwise agreed with you or, if you invest in a product, your product provider, we may effect transactions in derivatives including contingent liability investment transactions and may settle or close out such transactions without further reference to you or your product provider.

(h) We may effect such transactions on such terms as we consider appropriate and for any purposes including for both hedging and speculative purposes. We may negotiate and execute counterparty, collateral and account opening documentation and give representations, warranties and undertakings for and on your behalf. Derivatives may be documented under the terms of industry standard documentation (such as, for example, ISDA documents (including Master Agreements, Confirmations and Credit Support Annexes)) or such other documents as we consider appropriate. Exchange-traded derivatives may be cleared by a broker or brokers selected by us and on terms agreed by us, including any give-up agreements, or on such other terms as we consider appropriate. We may give representations and warranties to counterparties and others on your behalf and may assume, until notified to the contrary by you, that you are willing and able to give all the representations and warranties which might typically be expected in the relevant market.
13. Our role as your agent

(a) We have, on your behalf and as your agent, entered into the custodian agreement with Platform Securities. Under the custodian agreement, Platform Securities will provide safe custody of the assets that we manage for you. From time to time we may provide information about you to Platform Securities.

(b) If you are a trustee, by entering into the agreement and for the purposes of the Trustee Act 2000, you accept the appointment of Platform Securities or any other custodian that we may appoint under section 13(c) as provider of the custody services and you acknowledge that the custodian agreement takes effect as a separate agreement and creates direct contractual rights and obligations amongst you, us and Platform Securities. We will provide you with a copy of the custodian agreement on request.

(c) We may, at any time and at our sole discretion, on your behalf and as your agent, terminate the custodian agreement and appoint an alternative custodian for your portfolio. We do not need your consent to do this, but will only do so if we receive undertakings from any proposed custodian that you will be no less favourably treated than before the transfer was effected.

14. Our right to delegate

(a) We have delegated many of our administration and dealing functions to Platform Securities. We may also from time to time:

(i) delegate any of our functions, including without limitation any of our critical or important operational functions or investment services, under the agreement to third parties (including Standard Life Aberdeen group companies) and may provide information about you and your portfolio to any such person to whom such activities have been delegated. Our liability to you for all delegated matters shall not be affected by us delegating any of our functions;

(ii) use other agents (including Standard Life Aberdeen group companies) to perform any administrative, dealing, broking or ancillary services required to enable us to perform our services under the agreement. We will act in good faith and with reasonable skill and care in the selection, use and monitoring of agents;

(b) We will give you prior written notice of any such delegation of a function which involves the exercise of our discretionary investment management powers and will not, without your written consent, delegate the whole or substantially the whole of such powers; and
15. Custody
A summary of the provisions of the custodian agreement is set out in appendix 1. You should read appendix 1 carefully and contact us if you have any questions (please see section 10(j) (How to contact us)).

16. Dealing and execution policy
(a) Details of our order execution policy are set out in appendix 3. You should read appendix 3 carefully and contact us if you have any questions (please see section 10(j) (How to contact us)).

(b) In effecting transactions for your portfolio, subject to paragraph (c) below, we will at all times comply with our order execution policy and in particular will act in your best interests and comply with any applicable obligations regarding best execution under the FCA Rules.

(c) Where we accept specific instructions from you in relation to execution of any order this may prevent us from following our order execution policy in relation to such orders. In particular we may not be able to achieve best execution.

(d) We and our respective agents (including Platform Securities) may (subject to any restrictions and our order execution policy) deal on such markets or exchanges and with such counterparties as we think fit. All transactions will be effected in accordance with the rules and regulations of the relevant market or exchange, and we and our respective agents may take all such steps as may be required or permitted by such rules and regulations and/or by appropriate market practice.

(e) You confirm your prior express consent to orders being executed outside of a regulated market or multilateral trading facility.

(f) We may place limit orders when managing your assets, and if we do so, you agree that we shall not be obliged to publish that limit order if it cannot be immediately executed under prevailing market conditions.

(g) If any counterparty fails to deliver any necessary documents or to complete any transaction, we will inform you in writing and take all reasonable steps on your behalf to rectify such failure or obtain compensation in lieu thereof. You must reimburse us for all resulting reasonable costs and expenses properly incurred by us in the discharge of our obligations.

(h) Transactions for you may (as the case may be) be aggregated:
   (i) with those of other clients;
   (ii) with those of Standard Life Aberdeen group companies;
   (iii) with other customers of us and/or Platform Securities and of its employees and associates; and/or
   (iv) (where we and/or Platform Securities use other agents for the execution of such transactions) with customers and or affiliates of such respective agents, with such agents’ own accounts and of their employees and associates.

(i) To the extent possible, we will ensure that any such transactions will be allocated on a timely, fair and reasonable basis in accordance with the requirements of the FCA Rules. The effect of aggregation may work to your advantage or disadvantage.

17. Custodian’s right of retention and set-off
(a) In accordance with market practice, Platform Securities (in its role as custodian), its agents and any other brokers appointed, may from time to time:
   (i) be entitled to exercise a right to retain possession of any assets and, if applicable non-managed assets, in your portfolio as a continuing security for the payment and performance of your and/or the product provider’s obligations and our obligations as agent on your and/or the product provider’s behalf; and/or
   (ii) exercise a right of set-off, which means that they may use any liabilities that you owe to Platform Securities, its agents or other brokers to reduce or repay any liabilities that any such party owes to you.

(b) Platform Securities, its agents and other brokers will also be entitled to advance monies in order to effect certain transactions or meet certain obligations. Where this happens, you acknowledge that Platform Securities may exercise its right to retain possession of your assets and/or its right of set-off or other similar interest in such of your assets as are necessary to secure the advance and that all rights, title and interest in and to any investment acquired on your behalf with such advance will be retained by Platform Securities until such time as such advance has been repaid.
18. Shareholder actions
   (a) In managing your assets we will, unless otherwise stated, have due regard to the investment objectives and any restrictions in procuring the exercise of any voting rights attaching to the assets of your portfolio. We will ultimately have complete discretion in the exercise of any voting rights attaching to the assets of your portfolio.
   (b) Our approach to the UK Stewardship Code is detailed on our website at https://www.aberdeenstandardcapital.com/uk-based/private-client/meeting-your-needs/uk-stewardship-code/index.html
   (c) Unless otherwise agreed in writing with you, we will, in procuring the exercise of voting rights, have due regard to our policy on voting. A copy of our policy is available on request.
   (d) Where voting on your behalf would give rise to a material conflict of interest, we will abstain from exercising our discretion (and in some cases we will instead contact you to obtain your voting instructions in order to ensure that a sufficient volume of votes is received for the purposes of constituting a valid general meeting). We will at all times act in accordance with our conflicts of interest policy which is summarised at appendix 4.

19. Borrowing
   We may not, without your express written consent, commit you to supplement the assets comprising your portfolio by borrowing on your behalf or by committing you to a contract which may require you or them to supplement such portfolio.

20. Our right to retain or sell your assets
   (a) If you do not pay any fees, charges, costs, losses or claims incurred by us and due to us under the agreement, you will be in breach of the agreement and we may instruct Platform Securities to retain some or all of the assets (and if applicable, non-managed assets) that it holds, for us and on our behalf as security against payment of the debt owed by you. We may apply these assets to the repayment of the debt due to the extent that it remains unpaid.
   (b) We may instruct Platform Securities to sell any securities held by it or to close out any derivative positions under the terms of the agreement in order to meet any liability for which securities are held as collateral or to meet any liability incurred by you or by us on your behalf in relation to the agreement.
   (c) We may exercise these rights where in our reasonable opinion, we believe that you will not settle the amount due if, for example, we are unable to contact you after making reasonable efforts to do so, or if you refuse to make a payment after a further demand for payment has been made.

21. Taxation and legal advice
   (a) You and any professional tax adviser appointed by you shall be responsible for the management of your affairs for tax purposes. We do not take account of the tax treatment of investments when investing your assets. We will invest in a variety of investment vehicles which have differing tax treatments.
   (b) We will supply you with sufficient information to enable you to complete any self-assessment return.
   (c) We will not provide you with legal or tax advice and recommend that you obtain your own independent advice.
   (d) If you incur any tax liability and we pay this on your behalf, we will recover these costs from you.
   (e) You will be liable for all taxes that are personal to you in respect of your portfolio, and transactions. Your tax liability depends on your personal circumstances and may be subject to change in the future.

22. Conflicts of interest and disclosures
   (a) Our conflicts of interest policy sets out the types of actual or potential conflicts of interest which affect our business and provides details of how these are managed. A summary of our conflicts of interest policy is set out in appendix 4.
   (b) We will act as your agent. You will therefore be bound by our actions under the agreement. To the extent that any fiduciary or equitable duties arise as a result, such duties shall not prevent or hinder us, or any Standard Life Aberdeen group company in effecting transactions with or for you.
   (c) Where we believe a conflict of interest may arise that is not set out in our conflicts of interest policy, we will notify you prior to dealing.

23. Changing or replacing the agreement
   (a) We can make reasonable and appropriate changes to the agreement (or issue a replacement agreement in its place) at any time while we are operating your portfolio:
      (i) if the legal or regulatory requirements applying to the portfolio or any product change; or
      (ii) if decisions of the Financial Ombudsman Service need to be reflected in the agreement; or
      (iii) if new industry guidance and codes of practice which are there to raise standards of consumer protection need to be reflected in the agreement; or
      (iv) if it becomes impossible or impractical, in our reasonable opinion, to carry out any of these terms as a result of a change in the law or regulation or other circumstances beyond our control; or
(v) if the tax treatment of any of the assets or non-managed assets held in your portfolio is changed or is due to change or we have to pay a government levy; or

(vi) to allow us to respond proportionately to changes in the Bank of England base rate, or to changes in other specified market rates or indices or tax rates; or

(vii) to proportionately reflect the increase of our incurred costs associated with providing the services; or

(viii) to reflect improvements to the services that technical, service or propositional enhancements have allowed us to make; or

(ix) if we are subject to a change of ownership.

(b) We may change our fees and charges as set out in section 8.

(c) Money held by Platform Securities (see appendix 1) may earn interest. Where interest is to be paid to you, the GBP interest rate payable to you will be disclosed on our website at https://www.aberdeenstandardcapital.com/uk-based/private-client/meeting-your-needs/index.html. Any interest rates payable for non-GBP monies are available from your client portfolio manager on request. Platform Securities may retain any earned interest above that paid to you.

In times of low inflation or even deflation in the economy, interest rates applied to cash deposits may be negative, which may result in a charge being applied by Platform Securities to your uninvested monies as more fully explained in appendix 1.

(d) Except in relation to changes to the interest rate for money held in your portfolio (which is determined by Platform Securities), we will give you at least thirty business days’ notice before any change becomes effective and provide you with a note of what the changes are by post or by email, unless the amendments made are immaterial, in which case we will not notify you.

(e) Changes to the agreement that are outside our control (e.g. a change in legislation) will take effect immediately. All other changes will take effect thirty business days from the date that we give notice to you of the change.

24. Termination of the agreement

(a) When you may terminate the agreement

You may terminate the agreement at any time by written notice to us (please see section 10(j) (How to contact us). You must then instruct us promptly either to sell the investments in your portfolio or transfer them to another provider.

(b) When we may terminate the agreement

(i) Where you invest directly we may terminate the agreement on three months’ prior written notice to you served at any time. We may agree a different notice period in our agreements with product providers.

(ii) We may terminate the agreement and close your portfolio if:

(A) you fail to comply with the agreement and fail to remedy this within thirty business days of being asked by us to do so; or

(B) you fail to make any payments due to us after we notified you of the amount you owe us and have given you a further thirty business days to make the required payments.

(iii) We may terminate the agreement by immediate written notice to you if we reasonably believe that our on-going relationship with you could cause reputational risk to us or our other clients, where the anti-money laundering requirements detailed in section 5 have not been met, or where the FCA (or any other regulator) requires us to do so.

(c) Consequences of termination (including our right to retain or sell your assets)

(i) Unless you have instructed us to transfer your portfolio (under section 24(a)), we will sell your portfolio as soon as is reasonably practical after receipt of your signed instruction to terminate the agreement. You will be liable for any additional dealing charges incurred when selling your investments or any costs associated with transferring the investments to another provider.

(ii) If we have instructions, ad-hoc or regular, to purchase investments for the portfolio, when we receive an instruction to terminate the agreement we may need to complete and price any pending purchase transaction before instructing the sale of the assets.

(iii) If we terminate the agreement under section 24(b)

(i) we will contact you to ask where the portfolio investments should be transferred to or whether investments should be sold. If we terminate the agreement in these circumstances, you will be liable for all accrued management fees and charges up to the date of termination, but not for any trading fees incurred to transfer or sell your assets after we give you notice of termination.
(iv) There are certain share classes which are only available to you by virtue of our relationship with you, and on termination we may move your assets from these share classes into different share classes, sub-funds or funds at our discretion.

(v) If we terminate the agreement under section 24(b)(ii) or (iii) we will sell all the portfolio investments and will pay the proceeds to you, less any dealing charges incurred in making the sales and any other sums that you owe us under the agreement, to an account nominated by you, unless we are instructed otherwise or we are prevented by law from doing so.

(vi) Except as provided for in section 24(b)(iii) the portfolio will only be closed and the agreement will only be terminated once all assets and non-managed assets have been sold or transferred and you have paid all debts and charges payable in relation to your account.

(vii) Before we pay the proceeds of sale to you or transfer your portfolio, we will deduct:

(A) all reasonable losses or expenses that we suffer in connection with properly opening, running or closing the portfolio that are outstanding at the time we close your portfolio, (whenever such losses or expenses were occurred); and

(B) all fees and charges payable up to the point that the agreement terminates. Fees payable during the quarter that the portfolio is sold or transferred to another provider will be charged proportionately and deducted from your portfolio prior to the account being closed.

(viii) If the assets and any non-managed assets in your portfolio are not sufficient to cover the sums payable under the agreement, you must still pay us any balance that remains outstanding. In these circumstances we may close your account and take all reasonable steps to recover from you any sums that remain due.

(ix) We will have no further liability to you once your portfolio has been transferred to you (or elsewhere upon your instruction, for example to another investment manager).

(x) Termination of the agreement will not affect any legal rights or obligations that have already arisen.

25. Risks and limits of liability

(a) Subject to any of our duties or liabilities under the FSMA and the other provisions of the agreement, we will only be liable to our client for any loss our client may suffer as a direct result of any services which we provide, to the extent that such loss or damage arises as a direct result of fraud, negligence or wilful default by us.

(b) If you invest in a product your right of recourse is against the product provider and not against us.

(c) Under the custodian agreement, your legal contract is directly with Platform Securities and any right of recourse that you have is against Platform Securities, not us. Subject to section 25(a), we will not be liable to you for any loss that you suffer in relation to the custodian agreement.

(d) When non-managed assets are held by a custodian other than Platform Securities or its delegates, any right of recourse that you have is against that custodian, not us. Subject to section 25(a), we will not be liable to you for any loss that you suffer in relation to any agreement you may have with such custodian.

(e) We will not be liable to you for any loss that you suffer if Platform Securities becomes insolvent.

(f) We will not be liable for any losses incurred by you due to any advice or instructions given to you by your financial adviser or where you have instructed us to act in a particular way.

(g) Whilst we will use reasonable efforts to ensure that all information provided by us is accurate, current and complies with UK law as at the date of issue, we cannot guarantee that this will be the case where we are reliant on a third party to provide accurate information.

(h) We do accept liability or responsibility for completeness or accuracy of the information when it has been prepared by us, but we do not accept liability or responsibility for the completeness or accuracy of information that has been prepared by third parties and we simply make it available to you for your convenience.

(i) No warranty is or shall be given by us as to the performance or profitability of the portfolio or any part of it or that any investment objectives will be successfully achieved.

(j) In accordance with the custodian agreement you (and where applicable, in accordance with our agreement with any product provider, the product provider) shall be responsible to Platform Securities for all claims and liabilities incurred or assessed against Platform Securities or its agents where such claims and/or liabilities arise directly from your fraud, negligence or wilful default or breach by you of any of the terms of the custodian agreement. In addition, Platform Securities may be entitled to exercise the rights described in section 17 (Custodian’s right of retention and set-off).

(k) Nothing in the agreement will exclude or limit our liability:
   (i) for death or personal injury caused by negligence;
   (ii) for fraud;
   (iii) for misrepresentation as to a fundamental matter; or
   (iv) for any liability which cannot be excluded or limited by applicable law.

(l) If you are acting as a trustee, your liability shall, in the absence of fraud, be limited to the assets of the trust from time to time.

26. Unforeseen events
The performance of our obligations under the agreement may be interrupted and shall be excused by the occurrence of an unforeseen event affecting us or any of our key sub contractors.

27. Death
(a) If you die, your personal representatives must notify us promptly and provide us with any documents that we reasonably request to evidence their authority to deal with your affairs before we will accept instructions from them in relation to your portfolio. If they do not do so, there may be a delay in processing the closure of your account. We will not be liable for any losses, costs or expenses incurred which result from your personal representatives’ failure to provide suitable evidence of their authority to deal in your affairs, or from any delay in us being notified.

(b) The agreement will continue to bind your personal representatives until your portfolio is closed.

(c) If we are informed of your death we will stop any regular withdrawals from your portfolio. If we are informed of the death of any beneficiary of a trust, we will only stop regular withdrawals that relate to that beneficiary. We will continue to manage (and continue to charge associated fees and charges on) your portfolio in accordance with the investment objectives and restrictions until your account is closed.

(d) On receipt of the required documentation establishing the personal representative entitled to collect in and distribute the monies and other assets of the deceased, we will act as instructed by that person. The value of the investments may rise or fall from day to day.

(e) Your portfolio will be closed as set out in section 24(c).

(f) Power of attorney
If we are informed of your death, we will no longer accept instructions from any attorney appointed by you.

(g) Authorised Persons
If we are informed of your death, we will no longer accept any instructions from any authorised person (excluding personal representatives as described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section 27), including your adviser, and will cease to make any adviser charge payments that you have instructed us to make. Where you are a joint account holder we will continue to accept instructions and to make payments to any authorised person who acts on behalf of a surviving account holder.

(h) Joint account holders
   (i) Your account will not terminate on the death of any joint account holder, provided that at least one joint account holder survives, unless we are instructed to close the account by a surviving joint account holder or the deceased joint account holder’s personal representative, under section 7(f) (Joint accounts).

   (ii) On the death of a joint account holder, we will update the structure of your accounts as required in line with our processes.

   (iii) We will treat the survivor(s) as the only person(s) entitled to your portfolio and will continue to act on the instructions of the surviving joint account holder(s) in accordance with section 7 (Joint accounts) and to pay income payable in relation to the whole portfolio to that/those joint account holder(s) unless you have instructed us otherwise in writing, (such instruction to be signed by each joint account holder who is living on the date of the instruction being signed), or we are required to do otherwise by applicable law, a court or other competent authority.

   (iv) We will continue to take instructions from any personal representatives appointed by any deceased joint-account holder and from authorised persons acting on behalf of any surviving joint account-holder.

28. Transferring your rights and obligations
You may not assign or otherwise transfer any of your rights or obligations under the agreement to anyone else unless we have given you our prior written consent.
29. Transferring our rights and obligations
   We may at any time, without your prior consent, assign all or any part of the benefit of, or rights and benefits under, the agreement to any member from time to time of the Standard Life Aberdeen group. Any other assignment or transfer of our rights and/or obligations will require your prior written consent.

30. Indulgence
   If we, at our discretion, choose not to rely on or enforce any of our rights under the agreement at any time, this will not prevent us relying on and enforcing those rights at any time in the future.

31. Severability
   If any provision (or part of a provision) of the agreement is or becomes invalid, unenforceable or contrary to any applicable law, it will be given no effect and treated as if it were not included in the agreement, but the remaining provisions will remain valid and enforceable.

32. Governing law
   (a) If you live in the UK, the agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the applicable UK law which is determined by where you live. Any dispute between us will be heard by the courts of the country where you live.

   (b) If you live outside the UK, the agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with English law and the courts of England will have non-exclusive jurisdiction to settle any disputes or claims which may arise out of or in connection with this agreement.
Appendix 1

Custody

We have entered into a custodian agreement with Platform Securities as principal and as agent for certain of our customers, including you (or the product provider where you hold a product), in terms of which Platform Securities will provide, or will appoint sub-custodians to provide, custodial services (the custodian agreement).

This means that the assets and non-managed assets comprising your portfolio will be held on your behalf (or on the product provider’s behalf where relevant) by Platform Securities (or its sub-custodians) as Platform Securities deems appropriate from time to time. We will not hold any money belonging to you and/or the product provider nor will we safe-keep any of your and/or the product provider’s investments.

Platform Securities is authorised and regulated by the FCA. We have satisfied ourselves that the arrangements ensure adequate protection for your assets.

1. Investments

Investments may be registered in the name of Platform Securities’ nominee or its sub-custodians or their nominees. You (or the product provider, where determined by the product terms and conditions, as applicable) will at all times remain beneficially entitled to the investments held for you by Platform Securities.

Platform Securities will buy and sell investments on an aggregated basis, as set out in section 17 of the discretionary management terms.

Platform Securities may pool investments with investments of one or more other clients of Platform Securities but Platform Securities will at all times segregate your or the product provider’s investments from those belonging to Platform Securities. Although we and Platform Securities will keep records of your investments where there is a shortfall caused by the default of a third party bank, settlement agent or custodian, you may share proportionately in the shortfall. If Platform Securities or its sub-custodians or their respective nominees fail and there is a shortfall, your claim will be for a share of the investments held together.

Platform Securities shall act upon our instructions in relation to the assets entrusted to Platform Securities from time to time. By your acceptance of the agreement you grant any mandates necessary to give effect to this.

2. Client Money

Your money will be held by Platform Securities as “client money”, in instant access, notice or term deposit accounts in accordance with the FCA Rules. This requires Platform Securities to hold your money in a client bank account or accounts, established with statutory trust status. Your money will therefore be segregated from Platform Securities’ own money at an “approved bank” (as defined by the FCA Rules). The approved bank(s) may hold such money with other clients’ money in a pooled account or pooled accounts. This means that client money is held as part of a common pool of money, so you do not have a claim against a specific sum in a specific account; your claim is against the client money pool in general. Consequently, if an approved bank fails, and there is a shortfall, you will share in that shortfall. Client money may be placed in accounts with short notice periods of, or on deposit for fixed terms of, up to 95 days. Platform Securities may place client money in notice or term deposit accounts in order to better spread the risk of default by the institutions they are held with, obtain better rates of interest or avoid charges for depositing client money which may otherwise be passed onto you. Placing client money in notice or term deposit accounts does not in itself affect your ability to deal with or withdraw funds from your portfolio. However such amounts may not be immediately available for distribution to you in the event of default by Platform Securities or by one of the banks with whom money is held.

3. Interest

A variable rate of interest may be applied to uninvested client money, that is, money which is not immediately required to settle a transaction. A portion of this interest may be paid to you. Platform Securities may retain any remainder. The GBP interest rate used to calculate that portion is disclosed on www.aberdeenstandardcapital.com (and non-GBP interest rates are available from your client portfolio manager on request). This interest will be calculated daily and applied to your portfolio monthly at which point it becomes client money. Any interest paid will be shown on your periodic statements.

In times of low inflation or even deflation in the economy, interest rates applied to cash deposits may be negative, which may result in a charge being applied by Platform Securities to your uninvested monies. The GBP interest rate is disclosed on www.aberdeenstandardcapital.com (and non-GBP interest rates are available from your client portfolio manager on request). This interest will be calculated daily and deducted from your portfolio monthly. Any interest charged will be shown on your periodic statements.
4. Scope of liability

The full extent of our liability to you for any loss that you suffer in relation to the agreement is set out in section 25 (Risks and limits of liability) of the discretionary management terms.

Under the custodian agreement, your legal contract is directly with Platform Securities and any right of recourse that you have is against Platform Securities, not us. Except as set out in section 25 (Risks and limits of liability) we will not be liable to you for any loss that you suffer in relation to the custodian agreement or Platform Securities or its agents.

The following information sets out the extent of Platform Securities’ liability to you under the custodian agreement.

(a) Platform Securities is not responsible for the authenticity or validity of title to the investments.

(b) Platform Securities will be not be liable to you for any loss suffered by you because of anything that an approved bank, sub-custodian, settlement agent or other third party does, or fails to do, or because that party becomes insolvent, whether they are backed by a government guarantee or compensation scheme or not, and should a government guarantee or compensation scheme fail and that government is unable to meet its obligations under the scheme, Platform Securities will still not be responsible for any loss suffered by you.

Platform Securities will only be liable to you for any loss or damage you may suffer as a direct consequence of:

(i) a breach of the custodian agreement by Platform Securities;

(ii) Any failure by Platform Securities to exercise the due care of a professional custodian or to provide its services diligently with a level of skill, care and technical ability normally exercised by a competent and professional custodian; and/or

(iii) to the extent that such loss or damage arises as a direct result of fraud, negligence or wilful default by Platform Securities.

(c) Platform Securities will not be liable to you for any losses incurred by you in connection with:

(i) the failure of (i) any issuer of investments; (ii) any counterparty with respect to your assets and investments; or (iii) us or any other agent acting on your behalf;

(ii) the completeness or accuracy of information received by third parties and will not be responsible for inaccuracies in such information, provided that Platform Securities has relied upon information provided to them in good faith. Platform Securities are under no obligation to verify, reconcile or validate such information as part of its services under the custodian agreement;

(iii) the negligence, default fraud or other failure by any clearing house or securities depository; and/or

(iv) Platform Securities relying and acting on what it believes in good faith to be properly given instructions or notices or other documents given or signed by the appropriate parties in accordance with the terms of the custodian agreement.

(d) In accordance with the custodian agreement (and in accordance with our separate agreement with the product provider) you shall be responsible to Platform Securities for all claims and liabilities incurred or assessed against Platform Securities or its agents where such claims and/or liabilities arise directly from your fraud, negligence or wilful default or breach by you of any of the terms of the custodian agreement. In addition, Platform Securities may be entitled to exercise the rights described in section 17 (Custodian’s right of retention and set-off).

(e) Nothing in the custodian agreement excludes or limits Platform Securities’ liability for death or personal injury caused by negligence; fraud; misrepresentation as to a fundamental matter; or any liability which cannot be excluded or limited by applicable law.

(f) Platform Securities are liable to you for any direct loss caused by or resulting from:

(i) the acts or omissions of any of Platform Securities’ affiliated sub-custodians but only to the extent that Platform Securities would be liable under the custodian agreement if the acts and omissions were in fact the acts or omissions of Platform Securities; and

(ii) the insolvency of any Platform Securities’ affiliated sub-custodians.

5. The Financial Services Compensation Scheme

Platform Securities participates in the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (“FSCS”). The FSCS was set up mainly to assist private individuals although some smaller businesses and smaller charities are also covered. Subject to certain exceptions, the FSCS would provide limited compensation in the event of Platform Securities being unable to meet its liabilities to a client. This scheme currently covers eligible investors to a maximum of £50,000 in respect of investments. In relation to client money, where an approved bank fails, you may also be protected. The current limit is £75,000 for each deposit taker.

These limits may change from time to time. Please note that compensation limits usually apply to your total holdings with any one organisation in relation to each category of claim and therefore each limit includes all the investments or all the cash that you hold across all of your accounts with one organisation.
Please note that the FSCS does not protect against market volatility. In addition, compensation arrangements in overseas jurisdictions may differ to those in the United Kingdom.

A copy of the FSCS brochure is available on the Standard Life website at https://www.standardlife.co.uk/c1/investor-protection.page.

Further information can be obtained from the FSCS.

6. Overseas transactions and custody arrangements

In order to carry out its role as custodian, Platform Securities may from time to time:

(a) arrange for investments to be held by a sub-custodian outside the United Kingdom;
(b) instruct a transaction for you that involves your money being passed to a third party in connection with that transaction, including (but not exclusively) an exchange, clearing house, intermediate broker, settlement agent or over the counter ("OTC") counterparty located in a jurisdiction outside the United Kingdom; and/or
(c) permit your money (in whatever currency) to be held in an approved credit institution or bank outside the United Kingdom or the European Economic Area.

If your investments or money are passed to a third party, including (but not exclusively) an intermediate broker, settlement agent or OTC counterparty, or credit institution or bank outside of the United Kingdom, the practices, and settlement, legal and regulatory regimes applying to these third parties may be different to that of the United Kingdom. If such an entity defaults, your investments or money may be treated differently to the way it would be treated if it were held in the United Kingdom and the compensation schemes available in the United Kingdom may not apply. This may increase your risk.

As a result of the pooled nominee structure, any fractional entitlements from a corporate event will be issued to Platform Securities on the cumulative total pool in share form. It is Platform Securities’ practice to sell fractional shares at the prevailing market rate and distribute amongst the relevant clients in proportion to their holdings, on a pro rata basis. In the event that the fractional shares received are uneconomical to sell and cash to be distributed is £5 GBP or less we will round up relevant client holdings proportionally. Any remaining small balance will become the property of Platform Securities.

7. Unclaimed investments and client money

In certain circumstances, Platform Securities may hold assets and non-managed assets for you, which have been allocated to you but have not been claimed by you.

Platform Securities will consider assets unclaimed if there have been no transactions on your portfolio and (where applicable) your ISA (other than payment of dividends, interest and charges) for a period of:

(a) twelve years (where you hold investments in your portfolio and (where applicable) your ISA); or
(b) six years (if you only have money in your portfolio)

We will use reasonable efforts to trace you. If we are unable to contact you Platform Securities will cease to treat your assets and non-managed assets as safe custody assets and your money as client money. Platform Securities may then sell the assets and non-managed assets it holds for you and transfer the sale proceeds or any money that it holds (after deduction of any charges due for your portfolio) to a registered charity of its choice.

If the amount of the client money balance is £25 or more Platform Securities will keep records indefinitely relating to the transactions and their attempts to contact you and unconditionally undertake to pay you or your successor or assignee an amount equal to the client money balance so transferred in the event that you or your legal representatives contact us and claim the client money balance.

Platform Securities will make good any valid claim against balances that were released from being treated as safe custody assets or client money, upon the provision by you of information to evidence the validity of your claim.

8. Client classification

For the purposes of the FCA Rules, Platform Securities will adopt the same classification in relation to you as determined by us and rely on information provided to them by us as to that classification.

9. Reporting

Platform Securities will provide you with a custody statement detailing the assets and non-managed assets that Platform Securities hold on your behalf every three months.

Please also note the following important points which form part of the custodian agreement.
Terms and expressions used in the custodian agreement have the same meaning in this appendix. We will provide you with a copy of the custodian agreement on request.

1. You authorise us to enter into the custodian agreement on your behalf and to enter into and execute all other documents and to do all acts and things on your behalf as fully and effectually as you could do (whether expressly mentioned in this appendix or not) and which we shall deem necessary or desirable for the purposes of giving effect to the transactions contemplated by the agreement and the custodian agreement.

2. You acknowledge that the custodian agreement takes effect as a separate agreement and creates direct contractual rights and obligations between Platform Securities, us and you. References in the custodian agreement to “customer” include you and accordingly you are bound by obligations expressed to be on the part of a customer including those obligations which we discharge on your behalf.

3. You hereby ratify and confirm (and agree to ratify and confirm) whatsoever we shall do or purport to do in furtherance of or in relation to the authorisations contained in this appendix.

4. Platform Securities may from time to time advance monies to facilitate settlement and/or in order to meet settlement obligations. Where monies are advanced, you acknowledge that you shall have no right, title or interest in or to any investments purchased with such advance or proceeds of such investments other than a right to receive such investments or proceeds on repayment of the advance and any associated costs.

5. You confirm that you grant to Platform Securities a continuing general right to retain possession of all investments until the satisfaction of your liabilities to Platform Securities arising under the custodian agreement in respect of (where relevant) any advances, charges, fees and all other expenses and liabilities incurred by Platform Securities in the performance of their services under the custodian agreement. You also acknowledge that Platform Securities can at any time, and without prior notice, assign any liabilities due to a sub-custodian together with any right to retain possession as security exercisable by that sub-custodian.

6. You also acknowledge and agree that Platform Securities and any other sub-custodian shall at all times have the right to withhold investments (to the extent only of any outstanding liabilities to it) until you have paid the outstanding liabilities due. Where payment is not received in full, Platform Securities and any other sub-custodian has the right to be able to sell such part of the investments as is necessary to satisfy all outstanding liabilities due.

7. To the extent permitted by applicable law and in addition to any other remedies available to Platform Securities under applicable law, Platform Securities may, without prior notice to us or you, set off any payment obligation owed to it by you in connection with all liabilities arising under the custodian agreement against any payment obligation owed by Platform Securities to you under the custodian agreement regardless of the place of payment or currency of either obligation (and for such purpose may make any currency conversion necessary). For the avoidance of doubt, Platform Securities shall not set off a payment obligation owed to it by one customer against an obligation owed by it to any other customer.

8. You shall be responsible to Platform Securities and its partners, employees, officers and directors for all claims and liabilities and reasonable costs properly incurred or assessed against them in connection with the performance of the custodian agreement and any instruction given by us on your behalf unless such claim arises out of (i) the fraud, negligence, wilful default of Platform Securities or any sub-custodian which is in the same group as Platform Securities or (ii) any material breach by Platform Securities of the custodian agreement. If we agree any claim is payable, we shall authorise Platform Securities to either withdraw the relevant amount from cash held on your behalf or (where insufficient cash is held) to sell investments held on your behalf to meet the relevant claim.

9. The custodian agreement will terminate on termination of the agreement with us.
Appendix 2

Nature and risks of designated investments

Summarised below is a general description of the nature of and some of the risks associated with specific types of investment which may be entered into on your behalf as part of the discretionary investment management services being carried out by us. This statement is provided to you in compliance with the FCA Rules. This statement cannot disclose all the risks and other significant aspects of designated investments. You should be aware of the nature of these investments and the extent of your exposure to risk. You should be aware that you might sustain loss of the money you have invested. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future and the value of investments, as well as any income derived from them, which can fall as well as rise. Some of these investments may be unsuitable for certain investors. Different instruments involve different levels of exposure to risk and in deciding whether to trade in such instruments you should be aware of the following points.

Specific Investments

1. Shares

A share is a certificate representing a shareholder’s rights in a company. Shares may be issued in bearer or registered form. One share represents a fraction of a company’s share capital. Dividend payments and an increase or decrease in the value of the security are both possible. The shareholder has financial and ownership rights which are determined by law and the issuing company’s articles of association.

Dealing in shares may involve the following specific risks:

(a) Company risk: a share purchaser does not lend funds to the company, but makes a capital contribution and, as such, becomes a co-owner of the company. He or she thus participates in its development as well as in chances for profits and losses, which makes it difficult to forecast the precise yield on such an investment. An extreme case would be if the company became insolvent, thereby wiping out the total sums invested.

(b) Price risk: share prices may undergo unforeseeable price fluctuations causing risks of loss. Price increases and decreases in the short-medium and long term alternate without it being possible to predict the duration of those cycles. General market risk must be distinguished from the specific risk attached to the company itself. Both risks, jointly or in aggregate, influence the evolution of share prices.

(c) Dividend risk: the dividend per share mainly depends on the issuing company’s earnings and on its dividend policy. In case of low profits or even losses, dividend payment may be reduced or not made at all.

(d) Smaller and Unquoted Companies: investment in the securities of smaller and unquoted companies can involve greater risk than is customarily associated with investment in larger, more established companies. In particular, smaller companies often have limited product lines, markets or financial resources and may be dependent for their management on a smaller number of key individuals. In addition, the market for stock in smaller companies is often less liquid than that for stock in larger companies, bringing with it potential difficulties in acquiring, valuing and disposing of such stock. Proper information for determining their value or the risks to which they are exposed may not be available.

2. Fixed Interest Securities

A fixed interest bond or gilt is a financial instrument which carries an agreed rate of interest, normally payable for a set period. Issuers of such investments can be governments, local authorities, supranational institutions and companies. Bonds normally have set redemption dates on which the nominal value is repaid. Bonds and gilts can be bought and sold daily. Bonds can be bought on issue and held until redemption, or they can be traded prior to maturity. Thus the purchase and sale prices can vary in unpredictable ways.

They carry price risk, driven by the evolution of interest rate markets, the terms of the bond and factors relating specifically to the issuing institution (such as a profit warning by a company that has issued a bond). All bonds also carry credit risk. This is the risk that an issuer may default on payments. Developed market government bonds typically have an implied credit risk that is low, relative to other risk assets, due to tax raising powers, and lack of default historically. Emerging market government bonds, corporate bonds and funding instruments issued by special purpose vehicles typically carry a greater credit risk than those issued by developed market governments. This can affect prices even if default does not occur, merely that the chance of default has changed. Companies can have a very broad range of credit risk, for example some may issue investment grade bonds which carry less implied credit risk than that ascribed to a government. Conversely, a company may have very high implied credit risk. The level of implied credit risk is subject to many factors which are not fully described in this document.
3. Collective Investment Schemes (Funds)

A fund is an investment vehicle into which investors can make an investment by purchasing a unit, share or interest in the fund. There are many different types of fund available including investment trusts, unit trusts, open-ended investment companies with variable capital (OEICs or ICVCs), Societe d'Investissement a Capital Variable (SICAV), Societes d'Investissement en Capital a Risque (SICARs), limited liability partnerships, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), real estate investment trusts (REITs), venture capital trusts (VCTs), property funds, hedge funds and private equity funds. They may be onshore or off-shore, qualifying money market funds (QMMFs), regulated or unregulated. Depending on the legal structure of the fund, shares or units in the fund may be listed on a stock exchange and the fund may be either open ended (being, generally, a fund that confers on investors a right to redeem their interests in the fund with the value of the fund being determined by the value of underlying assets) or closed ended. Some fund structures are more exposed to risk than others due to, amongst other things, the markets they invest in, the nature of their assets and the extent of their leverage.

In each case the fund may be managed by a third party which invests the fund’s cash and assets. The shares or units represent the investor’s interest in the fund and the value of the shares or units purchased is often determined by the value of the underlying investments made by the fund (although where the shares or units in the fund are listed or traded on a market, they may trade or be sold at a discount or premium to net asset value).

Some funds charge an annual management fee. Usually this will be taken from the income generated. If insufficient income is generated by the fund to cover the management fee, the balance will be deducted from the fund’s capital and to that extent will constrain capital growth. In some cases this may be deducted directly from the capital of the fund which will reduce capital growth.

As mentioned earlier in this section, we may invest in QMMFs from time to time. If you do not wish your portfolio to invest in QMMFS, you must notify us of this and we will discuss appropriate alternatives with you.

Dealing in any type of fund may involve the following risks:

(a) Transferability and withdrawal: shares or units in funds may not be readily redeemable or transferable or there may not be a market for such shares or units. In such cases, an investor may have to hold his interest until such time as the fund is wound up or a secondary market develops for those shares or units – this may involve the investor holding his interest for a substantial period of time. If the fund is an open ended fund, restrictions may apply to the redemption of the shares or units that may result in an investor being unable to liquidate his investment in the fund at the time of his choosing. There may also be fees payable on redemption of shares or units. The shares or units in some funds may be listed on a stock market. As a result, the share price will fluctuate in accordance with supply and demand and may not reflect the underlying net asset value of the shares or units. Investment in a fund will at all times be subject to the terms of the fund’s governing documents, including terms relating to underlying investments which may include, for example, restricted conditions surrounding the liquidity of investments and the rights of directors to suspend redemptions in certain circumstances.

(b) Regulation: some funds may not be regulated in the jurisdiction of their establishment, or elsewhere, meaning that certain investor protections or restrictions on activity applicable, in a given jurisdiction, to a regulated fund may not apply to such funds.

(c) Leverage: some funds may borrow funds under credit facilities in order to satisfy redemption requests, pay certain organisational expenses and finance the acquisition of investments. As such, leverage exposes the fund to capital risk and interest costs that may reduce the value of an investor’s investment in the fund.

(d) Rights of participation: investors in funds, generally, have very limited rights of participation in respect of their shares or units and the power to make all decisions, with the consent of investors, is usually delegated to the investment manager of the fund.

(e) Strategy: some funds specialise in particular asset classes, geographical areas or market sectors, meaning risk may be concentrated in the relevant asset classes or geographical areas or market. Some funds choose strategies which the market would regard as high risk. The investment strategy of a fund may be such that the fund faces strong competition for the purchase of assets from other investors, thereby reducing the investment opportunities available to the fund.

(f) Valuations: it may be difficult to determine the net asset value of a fund which has invested in illiquid underlying assets, and therefore it may be difficult to value the underlying shares or units of the fund.

(g) Underlying assets: the underlying assets of a fund can be diverse and cover both long and short positions and a full range of assets, which may be held via derivative contracts. A fund may be exposed to market risks and risks associated with particular trading activities – for example, off-exchange trading, short selling, leveraged trading, frequent portfolio turnover and speculative position limits – which may result in losses for the fund or periods of fund underperformance. The risks associated with a direct investment by an investor in the
5. Off-exchange warrant transactions

Transactions in off-exchange warrants may therefore involve greater risk than dealing in exchange traded warrants because there is no exchange market through which to liquidate your position, or to assess the value of the warrant or the exposure to risk. Bid and offer prices need not be quoted, and even where they are, they will be established by dealers in these instruments and consequently it may be difficult to establish what is a fair price.

(h) Management of the fund: the operation and performance of a fund will be dependent upon the performance of the fund’s investment manager. Generally a fund will rely upon the investment manager to make investment decisions consistent with the fund’s investment objectives and the investment manager, in turn, will be dependent upon its key personnel carrying out their roles with due care and skill. The investment manager and its affiliates (if any) may be in a position to provide services to other clients which conflict directly or indirectly with the activities of the fund and could prejudice investment opportunities available to, and investment returns achievable by, the fund. If the agreement between the fund and the investment manager is terminated, the fund may not be able to find a suitable replacement for the investment manager, potentially leading to losses for the fund and periods of fund underperformance.

4. Warrants

A warrant is a time-limited right to subscribe for shares, debentures, loan stock or government securities and is exercisable against the original issuer of the underlying securities. A relatively small movement in the price of the underlying security results in a disproportionately large movement, unfavourable or favourable, in the price of the warrant. The prices of warrants can therefore be volatile. It is essential for anyone who is considering purchasing warrants to understand that the right to subscribe which a warrant confers is invariably limited in time with the consequence that if the investor fails to exercise this right within the predetermined time scale then the investment becomes worthless. It would not be prudent to buy a warrant unless you are prepared to sustain a total loss of the money you have invested plus any commission or other transaction charges. Some other instruments are also called warrants but are actually options (for example, a right to acquire securities which is exercisable against someone other than the original issuer of the securities, often called a covered warrant).

6. Structured Products

Structured products are investment vehicles with a finite life where derivatives are used to create a particular investment strategy. For example, in some instances, they are designed for investors who wish to combine market growth with a guarantee that they will get their original investment back or will pay out a fixed coupon if certain conditions are met. Structured products have different risk profiles depending upon a number of factors, for example, the investment strategy, the structure used, credit risk of underlying financial instruments, counterparty risk of the issuer and liquidity risk. Not all structured products are tradeable investments with some structured products requiring the investor to hold the product to maturity.

7. Structured Capital at Risk Products (SCARPs)

SCARPs are products, other than derivatives, which provide an agreed level of income or growth over a specified investment period. It is important to note that the capital initially invested by you is not protected or guaranteed and may not be returned to you at the end of the product term. SCARPs have the following features:

(a) your original investment is exposed to a range of outcomes;
(b) the return of the original investment at the end of the investment period is linked by a pre-set formula to the performance of an index, a combination of indices, a ‘basket’ of selected stocks (typically from an index or indices), or other factor or combination of factors; and
(c) if the performance in (b) is within specified limits, repayment of initial capital invested occurs but if not, you could lose some or all of their original investment.

Buying or dealing in SCARPs may involve the following specific risks:

(a) the return of the original investment at the end of the investment period is not guaranteed and you may lose some or all of the money initially invested;
(b) the amount of initial capital invested may be geared, which means that a small percentage fall in the related index may result in a larger reduction in the amount repaid out to you;
(c) if a SCARP is sold prior to maturity, you may lose capital and may not receive the maximum benefit;
(d) the initial capital invested may be placed into high risk investments, such as non-investment grade bonds;
(e) the rate of income or growth may depend on specified conditions being met (for example, the rate of growth might depend on the performance of the Nikkei 225 index as follows: for every 100p invested, 100p is returned at the end of the life of the SCARP (6 years) if the Nikkei 225 index falls by less than 50%. If the index falls by more than 50%, the 100p is reduced by the percentage fall in the index. If the index rises, the 100p increases by 5 times the percentage rise in the index to a maximum of 200p at the end of the life of the SCARP; and

(f) you may not get back all the money that is invested in the SCARP.

8. Commodities
The primary commodities that are traded are oil, gold and agricultural products. Since no one really wants to transport all those heavy materials, what is actually traded are futures contracts or options. These are agreements to buy or sell at an agreed upon price on a specific date and are considered to be high risk.

9. Debentures
Debentures are loans that are usually secured and have either fixed or floating charges with them. Debenture holders have the right to receive their interest payments before any dividend is payable to shareholders and, most importantly, even if a company makes a loss, it still has to pay its interest charges. If the business fails, the debenture holders will be preferential creditors and will be entitled to the repayment of some or all of their money before the shareholders receive anything. The level of risk for debentures will vary based on factors specific to the issuing institution and macro-economic factors.

Other General Risks of Investing

10. Foreign markets
Foreign markets will involve different risks from the UK markets. In some cases the risks will be greater. The potential for profit or loss from transactions on foreign markets or in foreign denominated contracts will be affected by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.

11. Emerging markets
Emerging markets are less developed countries which may have less stable economic and/or political conditions than larger mature western economies. Emerging market investing is generally characterised by higher levels of risk than investing in fully developed markets. Accounting, corporate governance and financial reporting standards that prevail in certain countries are often not equivalent to those in countries with more developed markets. Tax and legal regimes may be subject to uncertainty and to significant and unpredictable changes and repatriation of investments and profits may be restricted by exchange controls. There may also be less well-developed regulation of markets, issuers and intermediates. Markets may lack liquidity of those in developed countries, leading to difficulty in valuing assets. Instability in such markets has previously led to and may continue to lead to investor losses. Settlement of transactions carried out on such markets may be lengthier and less secure than in developed markets. In some international markets and particularly in developing and emerging markets the marketability of quoted shares may be limited due to foreign investment restrictions, wide dealing spreads, exchange controls, foreign ownership restrictions, the restricted opening of stock exchanges and a narrow range of investors. Trading volume is lower than on more developed stock markets, and equities are less liquid. Volatility of prices can also be greater than in more developed stock markets. The infrastructure for clearing, settlement and registration on the primary and secondary markets of many emerging markets may be undeveloped. Many developing and emerging markets, and the companies quoted on their stock exchanges, are exposed to the risks of political, social and religious instability, expropriation of assets or nationalisation, rapid rates of inflation, high interest rates, currency depreciation and fluctuations and changes in taxation.

12. Suspensions of Trading
Under certain trading conditions it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position. This may occur, for example, at times of rapid price movement if the price rises or falls in one trading session to such an extent that under the rules of the relevant exchange trading is suspended or restricted.

13. Stabilisation
From time to time we may carry out transactions in securities on your behalf where the price may have been influenced by measures taken to stabilise it. Stabilisation enables the market price of a security to be maintained artificially during the period when a new issue of securities is sold to the public. Stabilisation may affect not only the price of the new issue but also the price of other securities relating to it. The FCA allows stabilisation in order to help counter the fact that, when a new issue comes onto the market for the first time, the price can sometimes drop for a time before buyers are found. The effect of this may be to keep the price at a higher level than it would otherwise be during the period of stabilisation. The fact that a new issue or a related security is being stabilised should not be taken as any indication of the level of interest from investors, nor of the price at which they are prepared to buy the securities.
Types of Transaction

14. Short selling
Short selling is a strategy in which a speculator sells a commodity or security that he or she does not own in order to profit from a falling market. The speculator will borrow the commodity or security from a third party and then immediately sell on to the buyer. At a later date, the speculator must make good on the loan by buying back the commodity or security from the market to close the position. If the value of the commodity or security has fallen during this period the speculator’s profit will be the difference between his original sale price and the buyback price (minus interest charges and fees). However, if the market moves against the speculator there is the potential for limitless losses.

15. Arbitrage
Arbitrage is the simultaneous purchase of a security on one stock exchange and the sale of the same security on another exchange to take advantage of a price discrepancy.

16. Foreign Exchange
Foreign exchange is the exchange of one country’s currency for another. All foreign exchange is determined by a rate of exchange, or a ratio valuing one currency against another. On the foreign exchange market, foreign currency is bought and sold for immediate (spot) or forward delivery.

The following risk warnings relating to derivatives shall only be relevant if the agreement with a product provider permits us to invest in derivatives.

17. Securitised derivatives
Securitised derivatives may give you a time limited right (i.e. where you must give some form of notice to exercise that right) or an absolute right (where no such notice of exercise is needed) to acquire or sell one or more types of investment which is normally exercisable against someone other than the issuer of that investment. Alternatively, they may give you rights under a contract for differences which allow for speculation on fluctuations in the value of the property of any description or an index, such as the FTSE 100 index. In both cases, the investment or property may be referred to as the “underlying instrument”.

These instruments often involve a high degree of gearing or leverage, so that a relatively small movement in the price of the underlying investment results in a much larger movement, unfavourable or favourable, in the price of the instrument. The price of these instruments can therefore be volatile.

These instruments have a limited life, and may (unless there is some form of guaranteed return to the amount you are investing in the product) expire worthless if the underlying instrument does not perform as expected.

It is prudent only to enter into this investment if you are prepared to sustain a total loss (where the terms of the securities derivative provide that return is totally dependent on the performance of the underlying instrument(s) to which the product is linked), a substantial loss (where terms of the securitised derivative provide for some form of return irrespective of the performance of the underlying instrument(s) to which the product is linked but where that return is low) or loss (where terms of the securitised derivative provide for some form of return irrespective of the performance of the underlying instrument(s) to which the product is linked but where that return is high but less than 100% of the amount you paid for the product) of the money you have invested plus any commission or other transaction charges.

18. Futures
Transactions in futures involve the obligation (not an option) to make, or to take, delivery of the underlying asset of the contract at a future date, or in some cases to settle the position with cash. Futures can only be closed (disposed of) by cancelling out its effect. They carry a high degree of risk. The ‘gearing’ or ‘leverage’ often obtainable in futures trading means that a small deposit or down payment can lead to large losses as well as gains. It also means that a relatively small movement can lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the value of your investment, and this can work against you as well as for you. Futures transactions have a contingent liability, and you should be aware of the implications of this, in particular the margining requirements, which are set out in paragraph 22.

19. Options
An option is the right (but not the obligation) to buy (call) or sell (put) an investment at a predetermined price at a particular date in the future. The option price represents the costs of the right to purchase or sell an underlying security. An option does not carry rights to dividends and is a synthetic investment which can be traded at any time.

There are many different types of options with different characteristics subject to the following conditions:

Buying options: Buying options involves less risk than selling options because, if the price of the underlying asset moves against you, you can simply allow the option to lapse. The maximum loss is limited to the premium, plus any commission or other transaction charges. However, if you buy a call option on a futures contract and you later exercise the option, you will acquire the future. This will expose you to the risks described under ‘futures’ (paragraph 18) and ‘contingent liability investment transactions’ (paragraph 22).

Writing options: If you write an option, the risk involved is considerably greater than buying options. You may be liable for margin to maintain your position and a loss may be sustained well in excess of the premium received. By writing an option, you accept a legal obligation to purchase or sell the underlying asset if the option is exercised against you, however far the market price has moved away from the exercise price. If you already own the underlying asset which you have contracted to sell (when the options will be known as ‘covered call options’) the risk is reduced. Only experienced persons should contemplate writing uncovered options, and then only after securing full details of the applicable conditions and potential risk exposure.

20. Contracts for differences
Futures and options contracts can also be referred to as contracts for differences. These can be options and futures on the FTSE 100 index or any other index, as well as currency and interest rate swaps. However, unlike other futures and options, these contracts can only be settled in cash. Investing in a contract for differences carries the same risks as investing in a future or an option and you should be aware of these as set out in paragraphs 18 and 19 above respectively. Transactions in contracts for differences may also have a contingent liability and you should be aware of the implications of this as set out 22 below.

21. Off-exchange transactions in derivatives
While some off-exchange markets are highly liquid, transactions in off-exchange or ‘non-transferable’ derivatives may involve greater risk than investing in on-exchange derivatives because there is no exchange market on which to close out an open position. Risk will be dependent on the nature of the counterparty with whom the transaction is being entered into. It may be impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value of the position arising from an off-exchange transaction or to assess the exposure to risk. Bid prices and offer prices need not be quoted, and, even where they are, they will be established by dealers in these instruments and consequently it may be difficult to establish what is a fair price.

22. Contingent liability investment transactions
Contingent liability investment transactions, which are margined, require you to make a series of payments against the purchase price, instead of paying the whole purchase price immediately.

If you trade in futures, contracts for differences or sell options, you may sustain a total loss of the margin you deposit with your firm to establish or maintain a position. If the market moves against you, you may be called upon to pay substantial additional margin at short notice to maintain the position. If you fail to do so within the time required, your position may be liquidated at a loss and you will be responsible for the resulting deficit. Even if a transaction is not margined, it may still carry an obligation to make further payments in certain circumstances over and above any amount paid when you entered the contract. Save as specifically provided by the FCA, we may only carry out margined or contingent liability investment transactions with or for you if they are traded on or under the rules of a recognised or designated investment exchange. Contingent liability investment transactions which are not so traded may expose you to substantially greater risks.

23. Limited liability transactions
Before entering into a limited liability transaction, you should obtain from us or the firm with whom you are dealing a formal written statement confirming that the extent of your loss liability on each transaction will be limited to an amount agreed by you before you enter into the transaction.

The amount you can lose in limited liability transactions will be less than in other margined transactions, which have no predetermined loss limit. Nevertheless, even though the extent of loss will be subject to the agreed limit, you may sustain the loss in a relatively short time. Your loss may be limited, but the risk of sustaining a total loss to the amount agreed is substantial.

Order execution policy

In terms of the FCA Rules we need to put in place arrangements to enable us to deliver best execution and provide you with information on our order execution policy.

Order execution arrangements
Where we decide to deal in investments on your behalf, we will normally transmit or place orders with Platform Securities for execution in accordance with the processes we have agreed with Platform Securities. We may use and pass orders to other dealers or venues from time to time as we deem appropriate to provide arranging and executing services.

Regardless of the arrangements which we may put into place from time to time to arrange for the execution of deals, we are under an obligation to take all reasonable steps to obtain the best possible results on a consistent basis for you taking into account the execution factors.

We will maintain a list of those dealers and/or venues on which we place significant reliance. We will provide you with a copy of this list on request. You will not automatically be notified each time we make a change to that list.

Execution factors
The execution factors are: price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution and settlement, size, nature or any other consideration relevant to the execution of an order.

The relative importance of these factors is determined by reference to the requirement to determine the best possible result in terms of the total consideration.

Monitoring
We have satisfied ourselves that the arrangements we have put in place enable us to comply with our obligations to you.

We will monitor:
(i) the effectiveness of our execution arrangements and the standards of execution received; and
(ii) our order execution policy on an ongoing basis. We will regularly review whether the arrangements which we have put into place provide the best possible result for our clients on a consistent basis and whether we need to make changes to our execution arrangements.

We will notify you of any material changes to the above description of our execution arrangements and our order execution policy.

Specific instructions
Where you give us a specific instruction as to the execution of an order, the relevant part of that order will be executed in line with those instructions in those circumstances where we agree to act for you. In acting on a specific instruction our ability to take the steps we have designed to ensure we obtain the best possible result may be impaired.

Summary of conflicts of interest policies of Aberdeen Standard Capital and Platform Securities

Aberdeen Standard Capital

A conflict of interest is defined as any situation where the interests of the firm, including its managers and employees, conflict with those of a client, or where there is a conflict between one client of the firm and another. The duties of individual employees when conflicts of interest arise are set out within each individual’s contract of employment.

In accordance with the FCA Rules, we have established a conflicts of interest policy which identifies actual and potential conflict of interest situations, taking into account whether we or a person connected with us is likely to make a financial gain, or avoid a financial loss at the expense of the client, whether we or a person connected with us has an interest in transactions or services provided to clients, whether there are any incentives, financial or otherwise, to favour one client or group of clients over another, whether we or a person connected with us carry out the same business as the client, whether we have received any inducements from a person other than a client in relation to services provided to the client, other than standard commissions or fees.

We will take all reasonable steps to ensure that transactions are effected on terms which are not materially less favourable to you than if a conflict or potential conflict had not existed.

Whilst complying with our conflicts of interest policy and all other laws and regulations, we are not required to account to you for any indirect profit we may make from a transaction contemplated by this appendix.

Any conflicts which cannot be effectively managed, and which pose a material risk of damage to the interests of clients, will be disclosed to clients before undertaking business with them. Such disclosure will include the nature and the type of conflict and will also include sufficient detail to allow you to make an informed decision on whether or not to do business with us. Where we consider that our arrangements are not sufficient to ensure that the risk of damage to you and to our other clients will be prevented, we will decline to act.

You may request further details of our conflicts of interest policy from your client portfolio manager at any time.

Platform Securities

Platform Securities provides a wide range of services to both retail clients and companies engaged in a variety of activities on behalf of individuals and institutional clients, including the management of client assets, transacting of deals and the custody of assets. As such Platform Securities may at times have interests which conflict with those of its clients. Conflicts may arise between its interests, its associates and employees and its clients and also between clients.

Platform Securities have in place a Conflicts of interest policy and procedures specifically designed to identify and manage such conflicts. These include organisational and administrative arrangements that are intended to restrict the flow of information and access to client data so as to protect the interests of clients and to ensure that the activities of employees are visible to senior management and are monitored. Further information on the Platform Securities Conflicts of interest policy is available on request from your client portfolio manager.

Complaints and compensation

Complaints

(a) We have an established complaints procedure which conforms to the FCA Rules for the proper handling of complaints. If you wish to see a copy of our Internal Complaints Handling Procedure please contact us (our contact details are at section 10(j) (How to contact us)).

(b) If you have any complaints regarding our services, you should contact us (our contact details are at section 10(j) (How to contact us)). Alternatively you can contact our customer relations team via email at customer_relations@standardlife.com. We will discuss your issue with you and attempt to resolve it.

(c) If we cannot resolve your complaint in this manner we will pass it to a dedicated complaint handler for further investigation.

(d) We record details of your complaint centrally and make sure your complaint is thoroughly investigated by someone who has been trained in complaints handling.

(e) If we are unable to resolve a complaint within three business days of the day we received it, we will issue you with a written acknowledgment together with a copy of our Internal Complaints Handling Procedure and provide you with regular updates as to our progress with our investigation into your complaint.

(f) Within eight weeks of receiving your complaint we will send you one of the following two responses:

(i) a final written response in which either: we offer you a remedy, whether or not we accept your complaint; or we reject your complaint and give you our reasons for doing so. This letter will include a copy of the Financial Ombudsman Service’s standard explanatory leaflet and inform you that if you remain dissatisfied with our response, you may be able to refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman within six months; or

(ii) an interim written response which will explain why we are not in a position to make a final response, and indicate when we expect to be able to provide you with one. This letter will also inform you that you may be able to refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service and will include a copy of the Financial Ombudsman Service’s standard explanatory leaflet.

(g) The Financial Ombudsman Service is an independent service with powers under Financial Services Act 2012 to resolve disputes between customers and business providing financial services. This service is free to consumer. Further information about the Financial Ombudsman Service may be found at is www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk.

(h) Complaining to the Financial Ombudsman Service will not affect your rights. In general, you have six months from the date of our final response to refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service.

Financial Services Compensation Scheme

The Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) has been set up to deal with compensation if firms are unable, or likely to be unable, to meet claims against them. For further information:

(i) Call them on 0800 678 1100;

(ii) See the FSCS brochure on the Standard Life website at https://www.standardlife.co.uk/c1/investor-protection.page; or

(iii) Visit www.fscs.org.uk

Please note call charges may vary.

The amount of compensation available from the FSCS depends on the type of business and the circumstances of the claim.
